

Car Insurance Policy Document

Car insurance provides financial protection against physical damage or bodily injury resulting from traffic collisions and against liability that could arise from incidents in a vehicle.

Coverage Types: This policy includes third-party liability coverage, own damage coverage, and personal accident coverage for the driver.

Premium Calculation: The premium amount depends on factors such as the car's model, age of the vehicle, engine capacity, and the owner's claim history.

Claim Process for Car Insurance: In case of an accident, the policyholder must inform the insurance company within 48 hours. A First Information Report (FIR) may be required for theft or major accidents. The surveyor will inspect the vehicle before approving the repair estimate.

No Claim Bonus: If no claims are made during a policy year, the policyholder receives a discount on the premium at the time of renewal, known as the No Claim Bonus (NCB).

Add-on Covers: Policyholders can opt for additional covers such as zero depreciation, engine protection, and roadside assistance for enhanced protection.
